Shopping Center Opening Tops Year's Events Here: Hanson

By Richard Crouch
The opening of the Northridge Shopping Center
in Arlington Heights during 1968 in the view of Village Manager L. A.
Hanson.

But it should not overlook some important long-range projects that were begun during the year, but will now be completed until later in the village's future.
Hanson said.

The $4-million shopping center at Rand and Arlington Highways, has been hailed as the largest in the outlying business areas and the most modern in the northwest suburbs. The new level center at the site is the first service department store in the entire area.

FROM A LONG range
viewpoint, however, Hanson said the acquiring of the land for the Arlington Heights cultural center is a real landmark in the development of Arlington Heights and Hanson.

"I think of no other suburb in the Chicago area which has taken such a step. The village has been working on this ever since we were able to get the new Memorial Library located on Dundas St.

"These two blocks are separated only by Fremont St.
This means that the entire 2-block area is bounded on the north by Dundas, on the east by Dundas, on the south by St. Louis and on the west by Val.

Hanson said the new complex will be lengthy and complete will be to arrange for the development of the cultural center.

"This will take a lot of thought, and careful planning and about $12 million.
Hanson said building the cultural center will require some outside financing, but he has the funds for planning for some help since the center will serve the people from the northwest.

Sears WARNING!

These Pins Contain
Poisonous Beans

To Sears Customers Who Purchased Novelty Pins
Since November 5, 1968
from Any Sears Chicagoland Store or Gary, Indiana

It has been determined that the "eyes" in the comic face designs and the "center portion" of the flower figures consist of a hard-shelled bean, in which, if chewed or broken and swallowed, could be fatal, because of its extreme toxicity.

The bean, known as a "Jequiquia Bean" or "Rosaury Bean," is egg-shaped and shiny, with a red or orange body and black tip on one end. Some beans may be discolored and appear brown or black and shiny. If you purchased or received any of the pins containing these beans, please return them immediately to the store for refund.

Village Car Stickers, Dog Tags Now on Sale

Arlington Heights residents have until Jan. 31, 1969, to buy new auto stickers and dog tags. Village Director of Finances Stuart Grant said yesterday.

The tags are on sale on the first floor of the Municipal Building, 31 S. Arlington Highway Rd. Auto stickers for the new year cost $10 and new dog tags cost $5.

"To help people buy on time," Grant said, "we're going to be open between 9 a.m. and noon for the four Saturdays in January."

Tags and stickers purchased after Jan. 31 cannot find any cost 10 per cent more, Grant said.

Residents who allow their dogs to run loose can be fined $5. Advertisers for violating a city ordinance on owner's control of a dog.

Lions, Erfort Beat Eisenhower by One; Make Finals

The Cardinals of Eisenhower, ranked 13th in the state, were shocked Sunday at the fourth annual Notre Dame Christmas Basketball Classic when they were edged, 66-65, by a surprising St. Victor five who had had trouble getting out of the first round.

The Cardinals had no problems in their quarterfinal match against a lowly Bridgeland club, but the Lions had to score four points in the last 18 seconds to pull out a 48-47 win over the Ravens of Rich East in their.

The bookies were 5-20 for the season last year and weren't doing much better this season before giving the Lions life. The Cards must have been certain that if the St. Victor boys had that much trouble with a second-rate team, they wouldn't give the residents of Blue Island enough a time.

BUT, NOT SO, Lion Dave

Erfort took on personally the task of keeping close to the Cardinals' shots by Curtis Fields and Bob Hammer and a breakaway layup by Bob Fischer had given the red-hot Eisenhower a quick 6-0 lead. Then Erfort started his barrage.

Teammate guard Terry Cannon sandwiched the long jumper between two of the same from Erfort and the same game was tied. After Leon Mitchell gave the Cards the lead with a 20-foot shot, Erfort tied it up again with another long shot from the left corner.

Hammer bagged a two-point shot Eisenhower, and again it was Erfort coming back with another distance swisher from yet another spot.

FLETCHER PUT the Cards up by one with a free throw and no one was surprised if the Cardinals were to bottle up Erfort. Were Don Keisinger, who scored seven in the quarter and Greg Doyle, who tallied eight.

The other eight points in the 23-point frame for the Lions came on two free throws by Kaskie, a field goal by Cullen, and four at the quarter's end by Erfort.

His first two were free throws awarded when he was trying his second shot of the period and was fouled by Mitchell. He finally got open a few seconds later and brought back memorials of the first quarter with a swisher from more than 20 feet.

IN THE SECOND QUARTER Eisenhower in the period, besides getting when he was trying his second shot of the period and was fouled by Mitchell. He finally got open a few seconds later and brought back memorials of the first quarter with a swisher from more than 20 feet.

The Cards 23-16 in the period and scored points led by seven at 29-21. The score at the half read 35-29 and Eisenhower looked ahead.

At the start of the third quarter Kaskie and Neeb traded field goals twice with a Doug Strand free throw for St. Victor underhanded in the 23-point frame for the Lions came on two free throws by Kaskie, a field goal by Cullen, and four at the quarter's end by Erfort.

THE ONLY SCORERS for Eisenhower in the period, besides getting when he was trying his second shot of the period and was fouled by Mitchell. He finally got open a few seconds later and brought back memorials of the first quarter with a swisher from more than 20 feet.

through with a shot from underneath and Norman Eisenhower added a field shot to the Cards one up.

For almost two minutes the score remained tied at 35-35 before Mitchell scored the second of two free throws to send the Cards one up.

It was time for Erfort again. A 20-foot shot sent him a long jumper to give Victor the lead. A Neeb shot from the left corner put the Cards up by two, and again it was Erfort from the outside to close the score, 57-57.

KASKIE NETTED a free throw for the Lions, but Mitchell came back with a two-point shot for the Cards. At 23-11 it was Erfort again to make it 66-59 for the Lions. Back came Mitchell playing the Erfort routine for Eisenhower to put them ahead 68-65.

thirteen seconds after Mitchell's basket, Cullen came through pointing St. Victor from by one again. With less than two minutes to go in the quarter, the desperate team traded traveling in the last quarter.

MRS. COOKE is a native of Barrington and has been a "digger" and collector of Indian relics since her childhood. She has found over 1000 different artifacts from the Barrington site recognized by the University of Illinois and reported in the "Illinois Archeological Survey Bulletin." Some of the arrowheads are dated back as far as 6000 years.

This year's sale of 1,600 Christmas trees netted a record profit for Arlington Heights Jaycees.

With part of the proceeds from the sale of trees they bought and distributed gifts for the children in Northwest Community Hospital on Christmas Day.

"In return, the chorus, owned by it to the community not only to 'entertain' but also to 'educate' in the fullest sense of the word. This we have tried to do by performing not only easy-to-listen-to love songs and ballads, but also choral masterpieces demanding concentration and involvement. On the part of the audience."

Highly respected for his virtuosity as an organist as well as a conductor, Thunder attended Concordia College in River Forest and the American Conservatory of Music in Chicago. While in the army and stationed in Germany, he was Director of the 3rd Armored Division Men's Chorus.

CURRENTLY, he teaches organ at Maine West High School; organ, piano, and voice privately; and is organist and music director of Christ Church in De Plaines.

After the Bensenville concert, new members will again be accepted into the society.

Rehearsals are held each Monday evening from 7 to 10 at Christ Church, 605 and Henn. Sts., in De Plaines.

For membership information, phone Dottie O'Laughlin at 299-4705.

It'll Be a Hot Time despite the Cold

Judging from the large crowds anticipated by restaurant managers, clubs, and civic organizations for tonight's New Year's Eve parties, it seems apparent that it will take more than the predicted sub-zero temperatures to cool the spirits of many Arlington Heights residents. Here are some of the offered second level.

The Knights of Columbus will hold a dinner-dance at the C.O. Hall, 515 North La Grange Road, 7 p.m. to 11 p.m. Dinner, dancing and party favors will cost $15 a couple.

The Arlington Carousell restaurant and the adjoining Horseshoe Club are both expected to be jump-jacked New Year's Eve.

The Carousell program calls for a full-course dinner, served from 8 to 10:30 p.m., plus dancing from 9 p.m. to 2 a.m.

There will be champagne at midnight and music by the Ray Swartz orchestra. The ticket will be $25 per couple and 400 persons are expected to attend.

The Horseshoe Club party, for members only, will begin at 6 p.m., with dancing from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Tickets are $10 per person.

Those who don't mind a short trip to the Old Orchard Country Club at Round Rd. and Euclid Ave., Morris will find themselves enjoying dinner and dancing.

The club's Christmas Eve celebration, 1000 E. Oakton, Des Plaines, is expected to have about 900 persons celebrate New Year's Eve.

The Arlington House restaurant at 902 E. North Ave. will have an open dining until 9 p.m., and music until 11 p.m.

A group of 100 or more who will pay $10.50 per person will then enjoy the

New Year's Eve party celebration that includes a nine-course dinner, dancing, and a midnight buffet.

Seven Acres Restaurant, 1000 E. Oakton, Des Plaines, is expected to have about 900 persons celebrate New Year's Eve.

For 300 of them, the celebration will include a seven-course dinner with choice of meat or lobster and choice of chicken or fish.

The club's Christmas Eve celebration, 1000 E. Oakton, Des Plaines, is expected to have about 900 persons celebrate New Year's Eve.

Everything will be served at a price which is available at about $10 per person.

The evening at Shaker's will be a good one and will feature all you can drink plus a choice of food.

Woods, Nine Others Sue To Reverse Poll Tax Vote

By Richard C. Krebs

Mayor John G. Woods of Arlington Heights is filing a lawsuit to reverse a referendum in which voters last year approved a poll tax.

Woods said the referendum was "unlawful" because it violated the state constitution.

The suit was filed yesterday in Cook County Circuit Court.

Leaning Light Pole Replaced

By Richard C. Krebs

A street light leaning over Arlington Heights Rd. north of the end of the Village Hall parking lot was reported to police yesterday.

The department of public works said the pole was replaced.

It appeared that the pole was leaning over the parking lot, possibly by some recent equipment work, according to the police report.

Whatever the reason, it was reported on the pole which was broken at the base.

Democrat Strength Growing, Leaders Say

By Richard C. Krebs

Democratic party leaders in the northwest suburbs will always remember 1968 as the Year One—the year that the two-party system first became a reality in the Chicago area.

The rising tide in Democratic voting strength was evident from Maine Township's Nick Blum, who is both mayor of Nine and Democratic commissioner in the township.

The Republicans are taking great pride in their high pluralities, but that only means past dates were a lot of people involved. The important thing is: the Democrats have taken the lead in the northwest suburbs.

Blum said, that, except for one Democratic state representative in each district who is backed by majority agreement, the Democrats have taken the lead in the northwest suburbs.

Spaghetti Meat Sauce To Last All Year

By Charlotte Erickson
Start the New Year on the right foot. Keep those resolutions to get organized, caught up, and finish projects started last year (and the year or two before that) make a big batch of Spaghetti Sauce. Then on the days we don't have to work we can work on all our other projects. As a start, I think I'll make Christmas tree ornaments that we haven't had time for the last two Christmases!

The sure you have a container of ample size to contain the amount of sauce you are going to make. If purchase you don't have one, borrow one from your church kitchen. I'm sure they won't mind if it's returned grumpy and clean.

SPAGHETTI MEAT SAUCE
This universally favorite dish can be a Monday night supper, as well as the main course at an informal dinner party. Serve with up elegant spaghetti, wine, salad with anchovies, vinegar and oil dressing, garlic bread and a light from dessert, who could ask for anything more?

Single Recipe
Preparation Time 20 minutes
Yield 6 servings (2 1/2 qts.)
1 1/2 cups onion slices or chopped onion
2 tablespoons olive oil
1 pound ground beef
1 1/2 cups tomato sauce
2 tablespoons tomato paste
1 1/2 cups tomato sauce
1 1/2 cups tomato sauce

SALAD WITH VINEGAR AND OIL DRESSING
This salad is a perfect accompaniment for a spaghetti dinner. Very easy to make and with marvelous results every time. Have all your green beans and carrots in the refrigerator so that you can get them out of the last minute just before serving.

Salad must always be the very last thing added to a lunch or dinner. The other ingredients may be added as much as 15 minutes before serving. A common failure is not to add enough salt to cut the taste of the dressing, so keep a heavy hand with the salt. Once you have the technique down pat, it takes no time at all to fix this salad.

Don't miss this chance for tremendous savings!

Speedy Gourmet
by MARILYN BELFERS
The Last of the Turkey

To help you use up turkey and have leftovers that are crowding your refrigerator for the holidays, Speedy Gourmet has a recipe for Breast of Turkey Mornay. The recipe is from the collection of Chef Manfred Schaefer, from Chicago's Bismarck Hotel.

BREAST OF TURKEY MORNAV
Cream Sauce
2 tablespoons flour
2 tablespoons butter
1 1/2 cups milk
Dash of salt and pepper
6 slices turkey breast
2 slices cornbread
1 cup cheddar cheese
3 tablespoons Parmesan cheese
2 slices ham
2 eggs cream sauce
1 egg yolk
Make a roux by melting butter and stirring in flour. Gradually stir in milk and cook until thickened. Place slices of turkey breast in skillet, cover with chicken stock and bring to a boil, per side. Warm cornbread in oven. Brown ham lightly on both sides in skillet or broiler.
Put Parmesan cheese into cream sauce, cook slightly then blend in egg yolk. (You now have Sauce Mornay)
Remove turkey meat from the stock. Let the juice drain off and make sure that it isn't too moist. Place cornbread in center of plate and top with one slice of ham. Put three slices of turkey meat on top of the ham and even with Sauce Mornay and state under a broiler until golden brown. Serve with broccoli spears and sweet potatoes. Serve 2.

Mt. Prospect Skate Clubbers Set 5 State Records

The sixth annual Mount Prospect Winter Carnival was held at Lions Park on Sunday Dec. 28, 1968. With the temperatures above freezing and raining on Saturday morning, it appeared doubtful that there would be any ice, but the ice was perfect.

Saturday afternoon, however, the temperatures started to drop and the park district employees worked the clock to prepare the ice surface. The result of this fine effort was the setting of five new state speed skating records by members of the Mount Prospect Skating Club.

Bobby Knight, skating in the Intermediate Boys Class, won the 220-yard sprint in a record time of 18.5 seconds. The old record was 20.2 seconds.

Gary Jostind finished second, and Tom Tempney got the fourth spot. Jostind then came back to eclipse the old 660-yard time of 1:21.5 with a time of 1:19.7.

Knight grabbed a second place in this race, and Gary then completed his record-breaking performance with a new record of 2:59.3 for the one mile, to win his division championship. The previous record was 3:08.4. Knight again got a second place.

The strong Junior Boys Class saw two new records broken. Bob Vele won the 800-yard race in 1:22.5 to beat the old time of 1:23.5. John Griffin sprinted the whole distance in the 220-yard race to win in 20.6 and surpass the old record of 21.2.

Vele also won the 440-yard event to give him 10 points and the class championship. John Griffin contributed a point to the team total with a fourth place finish in this event.

Zack Wallenstedt continued domination of the Mount Prospect Boys Class with two wins in the 220-yard and 440-yard races.

Warrie Jostind concluded the scoring for the club with a third place finish in the Pony Boy 220 yard sprint. The Northbrook Skating Club won the event with 32 points. Mount Prospect presented the end and scored 51 points for second. The 1st Skating Club finished in third place with 44 points.

With local ice now available manager Don Dankowski, 317 S. Wolfen, Mount Prospect, announced that all interested boys and girls should contact him and come to practice at Lions Park from 5:30-6:30 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Viator Grad, Jim Smith, Husky Starter

Jim Smith, a graduate from Maine West High School in 1965, is a member of the starting five of the Northern Illinois University varsity basketball squad.

Paul Dunka a graduate of St. Viator is also a member of the team, but Smith is leading all scorers at NIU as the 6' senior has an average of 20.3 points-per-game average and mostly passed the Huskies to a fifth of the season win over the University of Michigan.

Northern coach Tom Jorgensen was understandably pleased with his team's performances and says he thinks Smith is playing the best ball of his career.

Three Arlington Grads, Finch, Atkins, Weidner On ISU Gymnastic Team

Three graduates of Tom Weidner's Arlington Cardinal gym team have been included on the men's squad at Illinois State University in Normal.

Doug Atkins and Jack Finch, both sophomores at the school, are performers on the side horse and the parallel bars.

Finch is rated by coach Wayne True as "one of the better performers on the team" and he has also been working on the rings. He has scored in the right twice on the p-bars and True has hopes of a nine-point performer in Finch.

ATKINS, WHO has been hampered by a wrist injury, will again be competing in the new year. "Even with the injury and without the benefit of competition, I think he should score in the sixes before the season is over," True said.

Atkins was third in the state on the horse last year while a senior at Arlington.

Art Weidner, a sophomore, is one of the team's all-around men participating in all the toughest and most grueling events in gymnastics.

"Art has been scoring very well," said True. "He is averaging about 7.4 in all events. Progress is slow because he has hit the cross bar Art is an extremely hard worker and the results are showing."

Weidner is the captain of ISU's gym team and has been showing great improvement all season.

The Arlington trio should prove to be a boon to True's ISU gymnastic squad this season and for several more to come.

Start white, plastic top pedestal table can serve as Maun's working area, perfect with chocolate stained oak chairs to match Dauf's wall unit, completed the rough-hewn Broyhill Shale White painting by Mamotte Corp. The chairs have rounded tops with shaped back and arms in line with all the good basic shapes in this collection. A "Tan Tover" for their problem cover is perfect for screens, records, or even a movie projector. This unit is composed of three separate, stackable pieces on casters for easy mobility. Young British designer Terence Conran combines the almost of practicality with good style and adds a bit of fun in this collection of furniture from Kroyhler Mfg. Co.

Just perfect for Dauf's personal study area, a space-saving wall unit composed of oak cubes and oak stools with bright, white disc fronts. Against the rough-hewn Broyhill Shale White painting by Mamotte, Dauf can design his own working area by combining the separate drawers, shelf, door and backboard. The "Tanner" desk is completely from wrapped, with casters for mobility, certainly a must for that much needed revolution. Standing in bed he's relaxing too, may after the breakfast has been of storage space and drawers. The bedside table with flip-down lid complements the white door from the collection.

When dreams of escape from the twenty-four hour hum of your life, turned on a family become overpowering, forget the travel folders - instead, create your own private oasis of tranquility, far from the din of the sheltering walls of what you now call the master bedroom. For far less money than a vacation of tropical splendor in some remote paragon, you can plan a permanent and powerful retreat - right at home. An idea room for adults, created by Donald J. Oger, Deputy Director for Kroyhler Mfg. Co., in conjunction with Mamotte Corp., shows that the dream room is usually achievable. It is a room where Maun can catch up on the backlog of sewing and where Dauf can knock off some work he keeps doing from the office in the hope of finding a silent spot.

POW. ABOUT $100. the room was finished in Mamotte Corp's Regal Shale White stained painting, which has the popular look and feel of rough stone. Against this rustic background, Don Oger used spriggle soft green and yellow, with splashes of fire engine red. The room, measuring only 12' x 15', is not an unusual size or shape for a master bedroom and yet a whole world of functional ideas have been worked into it. The room was split into "he" and "her" sides - with the color and function matching the mood. On Dauf's side the wall was fitted with "space cubes" from the new Conran Collection from Kroyhler. Each unit is a 24" square which can be stacked up, down or sideways, providing storage in drawers, shelves, desk and bookcase. A mini TV len the adults see reruns of the "really good films" from the 30s - or watch the ball game while doing battle with the channel surfers in the family. He can rest in a minimalist yet chair, trolley from Kroyhler, which rolls anywhere on hidden casters.

Maun gets the window side - of course. She'll enjoy the afternoon sunshine while catching up on letter writing on the gleaming white, Franky plastic topped pedestal table - her own "workbench". A "tower-of-fun" in the corner is a great size idea in plastic, also designed for Kroyhler by Terence Conran, the bright young British design innovator. In the tower, parents store their own stereophiles and record player and albums of Glen Miller, Mantovani, or even Lawrence Welk. There's a movie projector, magazine rack and drawers for whatever you're in the mood to do. The room's random-shaped grooves add architectural interest to the walls - a third dimension of the night sky so that the background of the adults' room is a colorful perfect foil for the colorful furnishings.

No matter how you decide to add or subtract and the answer will come on the next day - a GETAWAY room perfect for folks who can't always get away!

The month's random-shaped grooves add architectural interest to the walls - a third dimension of the night sky so that the background of the adults' room is a colorful perfect foil for the colorful furnishings.

5 Plan Winter Carnival

Five northwest suburban residents are among those who will plan Northern Illinois University's 1963 Winter Carnival, Feb. 16-22. Arlington Heights residents are Barbara Klein, 1104 E. Campbell, midway committee; Barbara Pank, 421 N. Dwyer, royalty committee; Don Pank, 403 W. Hawthorne, skating party and new costumes committee.

Bonnie Bolman, 8847-F Robin Dr., Des Plaines is co-chairman of royalty committee and line dancers, 9247 Twin Oaks. Des Plaines is co-chairman of the dance contest. Among the events scheduled are skit and skit and sculpture, competition for winter carnival king and queen, a carnival style midway, dance, sports and related activities. Ten committees have been appointed to plan activities for the winter carnival.

'Owl and Pussycat' Extended

The current attraction, "The Owl and the Pussycat," at the Grand Orchard Country Club, Mount Prospect, has been extended through Feb. 10. The third anniversary of the play, making it a 21-week run, marks ending in the last theatre management said. Ed Quinn and John G. Cox, the stars of the production, have other commitments after the February date. In the children's drama, "Law Mutt's Tale," the author will continue his production of "The Wizard of Oz" on Saturdays and Sundays at 2 p.m. through Jan. 12. There are special discounts for groups of 20 or more for the school's regular price of $100.

Annual Writing Contest For Vets Begins Jan. 15

Veteran in VA hospital or hospitalized in non-VA institution, in the northwest suburban area as well as across the nation, can start sending in their entries for the 23rd annual writing contest on Jan. 15.

March 15 is deadline for filing entries. Winners are to be announced in late June, according to VA's chief medical director, Dr. H. M. Engle.

Prize totaling more than $5,000 will be awarded in creative categories which include true experience, general articles, short stories, light verse, poetry, book reviews, greeting cards and cartoons.

The annual writing competition is conducted by volunteer workers as part of a year-round service in rehabilitation and recreation, and contests are encouraged in all 166 VA hospitals through a publication, Contest News, produced by volunteers.

Dr. Engle said the prize is not the only benefit from entering the contests and bids veterans that "we encourage each of you to engage in creative writing for your recreation and rehabilitation; you will profit from the therapeutic benefit."

The VA medical director pointed to Joseph Poth of New York, a quadriplegic since 1957, who started writing three years ago by typing his material with the help of a stick held in his mouth and who has won medals from the President Foundation for two patriotic essays, and awards from Reader's Digest, Doubleday, Rand McNally, Dutton, and Hallmark.

Full information on entering the 23rd annual writing contest is available by writing to Hospitalized Veterans Writing Project, Inc., 333 E. Huron St., Chicago 60601.

Lewis-Clark Trail Panel Asks Extension

New life has been breathed into the Lewis and Clark Trail Commission program by the resolution measures have taken, requesting Congress extend its existence beyond Oct. 6, 1969, present expiration date.

The action taken by the commission, which held hearings in Chicago last Nov. 10 for area scholars and historically-minded northwest suburban residents, was taken after the Nov. 20 hearing at Portland, Ore.

Final hearing on matters new stand, call for a meeting at the St. Louis, Mo. - Wood River, Ill. site in spring of 1969, according to Gene Graves, director of the department of business and economic development in Illinois, who is now representative on the commission. The extension request is for five years.

The Illinois Bicentennial celebration focused a strong trade interest in this area about the famous 1804-1806 expedition which preceded the emergence of Illinois as a State in 1818.

New USDA Publication Aids Program Chairmen

Program chairmen throughout the northwest suburbs can face the New Year with a high of relief, now that the new USDA publication No. 1107 has been issued.

Practically every civil, social and service organization, garden club, home economy study circle, modern assembly will find something of interest in the latest brochure, "Color Filmstrip and Slide Sets of the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture."

Individual planners, such as school teachers, professional people in many areas, buyers, sellers and promoters of agricultural home will find it useful to have the brochure.

Listing 83 subjects under 20 general headings, from beautification, food, and home gardening to housing, recreation, etc., and school lunches, the new catalog provides a wealth of information. Beautification, for example, outlines how tree planting "do's and don'ts" can be taught peacefully in a 50-frame showing of "Color It Green with Trees," so the audience can select and plant trees properly to beautify both home and community.

The slide set can be shown with any standard 35 mm slide projector. In most cases a duplicate film strip is available for those preferring strips to slides. The strips also fit any standard 35 mm projector.

WHERE THE photos are not self-explanatory, a pamphlet shows each photo in the set and provides lecture notes or narrative. Some film strips, especially among the 13 4-8 activities subjects offered, also have a voiced tape furnished.

For economy minded program planners, the cost is modest: about $100 to the get the set and slide sets and $25.00 a few at $6.00 or above. To see No. 1107 film slides and 13 sets to U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20540, and start ordering up color film strips for your group.

New Aid Programs For Nurses

In the closing days of 1968, hardly any attention was drawn nationally to the new programs of financial aid to veterinary and nursing students under the Health Manpower Act of 1968.

In the northwest suburbs the nursing part of this money should be of special interest, with various local area groups all agreed on the need for recruiting and encouraging students to help fill depleted nursing ranks in the area.

The new program for nurse students, called the Nursing Scholarship Program, replaces the Nursing Educational Opportunity Grants Program, now scheduled to end with the 1969 academic year.

The act enables the secretary of HEW to make scholarship grants to students of exceptional financial need who are either enrolled as full-time students or are accepted in some 17,000 schools of nursing with scholarships up to $1,500 a year to be awarded.

Similar stipendships govern the education of veterinary students, according to Dr. Leonard P. Berman, director of the bureau of health education. The stipendship up to $2,000 a year may be awarded.

The veterinary medicine and nursing schools received the new scholarship from December to allow interested students to apply for the scholarship year 1969-1970, with full-time students for the Student Loan and Scholarship Act of 1968, M. E. Berman, Health Manpower, National Institutes of Health, Bethesda, Maryland, 20814.

A Preview Of Coming Furniture Styles

BY MARILYN HILFERS

Wasson Editor Monday marks the beginning of the January Home Furnishing Market in Chicago. Furniture buyers from all over the U.S. will be selecting styles and fabrics for their homes.

Mediterranean and Spanish are predicted to continue as the dominant furniture styles, but some buyers feel that modern will be making an advance. Robert Clark from John M. Smyth & Co., in a recent interview in the Home Furnishing Daily, said, "we're interested in polished steel or chrome with glass tops." Wallace Crawford, president of John Coffey & Sons will be looking for "good, exciting, creative modern in merchandise, which will have a fresh, exciting appeal and not be stereotyped."

FURNITURE that illustrates the past will also be on display during the show. Herings has designed a new 65-piece Grand Tour/Second Edition which is an anthology of classic court furniture representing France, Germany, Spain, Italy and England.

Kemp's collection of solid pine and pine veneers will show that colonial furniture is always in style. Their American Settle collection has designs with hefty demotions to cross architectural interest in modern rooms.

Of particular interest to the homemaker will be the super finishes developed by the Fine Hardware Association. Soils are supposed to literally roll off wood surfaces, leaving nothing but coffee, alcohol, mud, polish, bleach and grease leaving the wood undamaged. The 1969 market is offering something for everyone to allow a new concept of decorating independence.

LEFT—From Herings' new Grand Tour/Second Edition a small room or area can have a pale effect by adding a tree and a table then combining them with formal dining furniture.

BELOW—Kemp's new Colonial pine furniture is designed to create that easy-going, mainstream feeling in a bedroom. Designs from the "American Settle" collection blend rural charm with contemporary creative touches.

College Briefing

Korea Education, a student at Illinois Wesleyan, and her mother, Mrs. W.E. Edwards, 408 E. Euclid, Arlington Heights, were among the 60 mothers and daughters attending the annual holiday coffee sponsored by the Northwest Suburban Pathological Conference Monday at Pioneer Park.

Korea Topic For Women

Korea, the land of paradox, will be the subject of the Arlington Heights Woman's Club meeting next Wednesday in Recreation Park, Fieldhouse. Bong Hye Stephens will dance and lecture on Korean culture, past and present.

Known as the land of the morning calm, Korea seems to most Americans today a land of puzzling contradictions.

Traditions and Mrs. Louis Ranges, program chairman, promise members a glimpse into this alien culture through Bong Hye's presentation. A native of Korea and the wife of an American serviceman living in Des Plaines, Bong Hye will do a series of Korean folk dances and songs in colorful authentic costumes. She began her dancing studies at Soek Myung Women's University in Korea where she majored in home economics and oriental flower arranging.

SHE WILL speak about customs and everyday life of her people, showing the difference and similarities of the oriental and western cultures. Antiques dating back some 1,000 years and contemporary household items will be on display.

Hostesses for the meeting are Mrs. William Bank and Mrs. Donald Knott. The American home science chairman, Mrs. William Hughes, announced that a workshop for dressmaking, military and knitting will be held at 9:30 a.m. Monday, Jan. 6, in the south room of the Recreation Park building. The date for the "meeting banquet" has been moved up from Thursday, Feb. 26, to Friday, Feb. 21. Tickets will be available in January.

Leaving more about 500 members and National Pathological activities were 60 mothers and daughters and 20 Pathological members at the annual Northwest Suburban Pathological holiday coffee Monday. Mrs. Baughman, 60th, 817 S. Burton, Arlington Heights, attending Western Michigan University discuss college with Mrs. Richard Johnson, 308 S. Van, Arlington Heights. Enjoying some refreshments are Mrs. Robert Howard, 488 W. Shawnee, Mount Prospect and Mrs. William Kertins, 338 S. Beverly Lane, Arlington Heights.

Bob in Final Rehearsals For "On the Town"

When his Break Off Broadway players went to the background they went.

The BOB is entering final rehearsals for "On the Town" which will open Friday, Jan. 24, and play for two weekends through Sunday in the Bristol Memorial Theatre at Arlington High School.

The group needed publicity pictures so they hired Mike Korfman, a popular local photographer, and drove into the big city. There were 12 characters and one photographer in search of a scene and they found plenty of background atmosphere and enough material to write a play of their own.

OSIE, a sailor in the musical is described as a ringer for a wonderful man. Once is played by Tom Swine of Elk Grove. He was photographed against an authentic reproduction of the prairie historic man at the Museum of Natural History.

A nightclub scene in the production most dramatically rumbled the King Lear Room at the O'Hare Inn and the group are beholden to the management there for allowing them full use of the empty room.

THEY LOOK back on their incident with a yodeling cab driver as the most amusing of a day full of fun.

When they came out of the Museum of Natural History, they decided that they needed a yellow cab for authenticity in the play department. They called out and they were in the front of the building and explained that they needed it for pictures only.

The driver was most cooperative. Albeit it was a bit of a hiccup when they insisted that the pictures had to be taken of the front from their back seat. They were a bit embarrassed when they looked out the back window of the cab and couldn't return to it in its closed position against the weather.

The driver was most understanding of the window's failure (it was not of the photographic position).

ALL IN ALL, it was an exciting and interesting day for the trouper, especially publicist Lynn Dobrowski, who was ignoring a persistent flu bug.

The other cast members present at the picture taking were Carl Gustafson of Crystal Lake, Jeanne Fry of Palatine, Pat Broke and Jerry Bliz of Rolling Meadows, Fran Pfister of Arlington Heights, Louise Szpilo of Mount Prospect, Neil Levin of Hoffman Estates, Jan De Coude of Wheeling and Todd Swinga's wife, Betty Jane.

The pictures are not quite ready for publication yet. Thanks for "On the Town" are available by invitation only through Lina Falkback, 237-6644. Carmela Galt at 392-8475 or Lynn Dobrowski at 381-6187.

CARL STONE JR., producer of Phantom Run and Mill Run Playhouses, is surrounded by cast who have shown their talent in his local theatre productions. Left to right: Tony, Jane Randall, Stok, Ron Ray and Stefanie Powers. The photograph was made when the show was coming and going last summer.

Village Theatre Sets Auditions for "Cat"

Auditions for "Cat On A Hot Tin Roof" will be held by the Village Theatre, Inc., Mon., Tues. and Wed., Jan. 6, 7 and 8 at 8 p.m. in the theatre workshop, 110 W. Fremont.

The auditions will be the first held in the theatre's new facility located just behind Arlington Heights Historical Society building.

Because the workshop is not fully furnished, a spokesman for the group suggested that auditioning persons could bring a folding chair, folding chair or a cushion to sit on.

"Cat On A Hot Tin Roof" by Tennessee Williams will be produced at Menay High School on two consecutive weekends beginning on Friday, Jan. 26. The director is John Reinhardt from Waukegan Reinhardt was "discovered" by the group at the Illinois Theatre Ensemble where he successfully directed another Williams' play, "The Property Is Condemned."

The cast includes Maggie, the cat of the title, whose characterization by L.L. Taylor in the movie is probably known most widely. Back as enough to play the role of Big Daddy, self-made millionaire played by Karl Trever; Big Momma, paragon matron of the Southern plantation; and Cooper, scheming older brother of Brick and Maggie, the wife of Cooper. There are also a fair at least 16 young actors. Smaller roles of Dr. Vaughn and Rev. Tucker also are to be filled.

The script is available for advance reading. Carl Barbara, director at 255-1453. The auditions are open to anyone interested in the theatre.

Show Goes On, Flu Bug Gets First Curtain Call

Friday, January 3, 1969

The show must go on and on it will go, according to Des Plaines Theatre Guild Director Mike Woulfs who is figuratively snapping his fingers at the much feared flu bug.

"The importance of being earnest," Mike said, "might just need a substitute of The Importance of Being Upright if that flu doesn't get taking its toll."

The rehearsal for the play which is scheduled to open Friday, Jan. 10, have been interrupted by the absence, due to illness, of half the cast and one assistant director.

THE EVERGREEN Oscar Wilde comedy of English mores in the decline of the 19th century will be given new treatment by the Des Plaines group who have imported their scripts from London.

Another London import is Director Woulfs who came to the United States three years ago. Born and educated in London, he holds a Masters in Metallurgy and is head of the Alloy Technical Services at Martin Marietta Corp. in Wheeling.

During his working hours he develops high temperature alloys for use in jet engines. During his hobby hours he develops the right degree of temperment in actors and actresses in "Evergreen". One of the first things he did when he became settled in the area was to join the Guild. Last May he was elected to the Board of Directors. He also edits Evergreen, the Guild newsletter.

Mike's theatre experience with the Madhatters, a London drama group, includes productions ranging from Shakespeare to comedy revues. He wrote a number of the latter besides editing their magazine and writing their publicity.

HB MILLIT-intellectually inclined performance artist on stage and Best Of Broadway. His wife, Bath, who is an Elk Grove school teacher, also appeared with Mike in the musicals. When he isn't sleeping, acting or writing poetry and novels, he helps build scenery. He was on the play selection committee in 1967-68 for the Des Plaines Theatre Guild and has directed and appeared in several working shows and banquet variety shows besides playing the lead in the 1965 production of "Arms and The Man".

Saturday, Jan. 25, at the Theatre Guild Playhouse on Lee Street. The assistant director is Virginia Boyer. Joe McDermott is production coordinator and Joe Grabowski will design the sets.

The cast consists of Marshall Kervin, 1941 Everett Avenue, and George Lopez, 5044 Kennedy Drive of Des Plaines. Joel and Melinda Matton, 1114 W. Hawthorne in Arlington Heights, Willam Levanter, 1760 Evergreen Lane, Park Ridge, Richard Michalek, 210-1211 Madison, Elmhurst, and Phyllis MacGowan, 609

Grenade, Glenview are also in the cast. Sandra, wife of Joe Grabowski, 502 Tomah Avenue, Prospect Heights, will play Cecilia Cadaver and that great runner of all grade dance Laddie Brackwell will be played by Beth, wife of Director Woulfs. The Woulfs live at 926 Bradford Court in Schaumburg. Tickets are on sale.

For more information we had from the Guild Box Office by mail four and sixteenth daily by phone 296-1211 or face to face at the Des Plaines Theatre Guild, Inc., P.O. Box 84, Des Plaines 60017.

Ten-Week Eclipse Of Star System

The star system which has been the production policy at the Mill Run Playhouse will be temporarily abandoned for a ten week period during this winter festival. The director of the repertory theatre will be Robert Sickinger.

Sickinger, a nationally recognized director, who was named Chicagoan of the Year in the field of arts in 1966, will take a leave of absence as producer and director of Hull House for this new project.

Casting off completely from the light, comedy fare of the past, the new play will be aimed at the audience of serious theatre goers in the Theatre during the holiday season.

According to producer Carl Stohr Jr., this will be the first presentation of new-generation theatre. "It should be able to generate a great deal of excitement and interest," Stohr said.

THE OLD Year-Virginia Graham (center), Fred Clark and Bob Holland as they appeared at the Mill Run Playhouse in August in a world premiere of "The Crocodile and the Cockeyed Moon."

is to continue doing new things in the coming year. Of the winter festival, Producer Stohr says.

"This is a complete departure from the light comedy fare which we have presented since Mill Run Playhouse reopened in April," says Stohr. "We hope, by presenting new-generation theatre, to excite and attract the growing audience of serious theatre goers in Chicago and especially the north shore area."

The star system which has been the policy at Mill Run Playhouse and is still serving successfully at Stohr's Phoenix Run Playhouse will not be used during the repertory festival. However, guest artists may be presented in featured roles.

The five productions scheduled are: January 28 through February 9, Harold Pinter's "The Homecoming"; February 11 through February 23, Edward Albee's "Tiny Alice"; February 25 through March 7, "The Zoo Story" and "The American Dream"; March 11 through March 23, Eugene O'Neill's "Desire Under the Elm"; March 25 through April 6, To be announced.

Meanwhile, with the opening night of the winter festival, Carl Stohr Jr. will be in the field of arts award in the "Chicago Theatre" who will be Harold Pinter's "The Homecoming."

GOLF MILL'S theatre-in-the-round, opened last April with Martha Raye starring in "The Crocodile and the Cockeyed Moon" and Betty Grable and Kathryn Crosby in "Shore Patrol." Because the most popular of the Mill Run Playhouse's 1968 presentation, "The Crocodile and the Cockeyed Moon" has also presented the Chicago Theatre on Sunday with a new play every six weeks.

During the year the Mill Run Playhouse and its producer, Carl Stohr Jr., have become closely involved with the community. Stohr has been a guest speaker at numerous school groups, and the theatre has been a major sponsor of Des Plaines, Arlington Heights, Niles and Glenview.

Gavin Stars In "Mr. Roberts"

John Garfield stars in the comedy "Mister Roberts" at the Mill Run Playhouse Jan. 10 through Jan. 26. The play is written by James Earl Ray and directed by Stohr.
